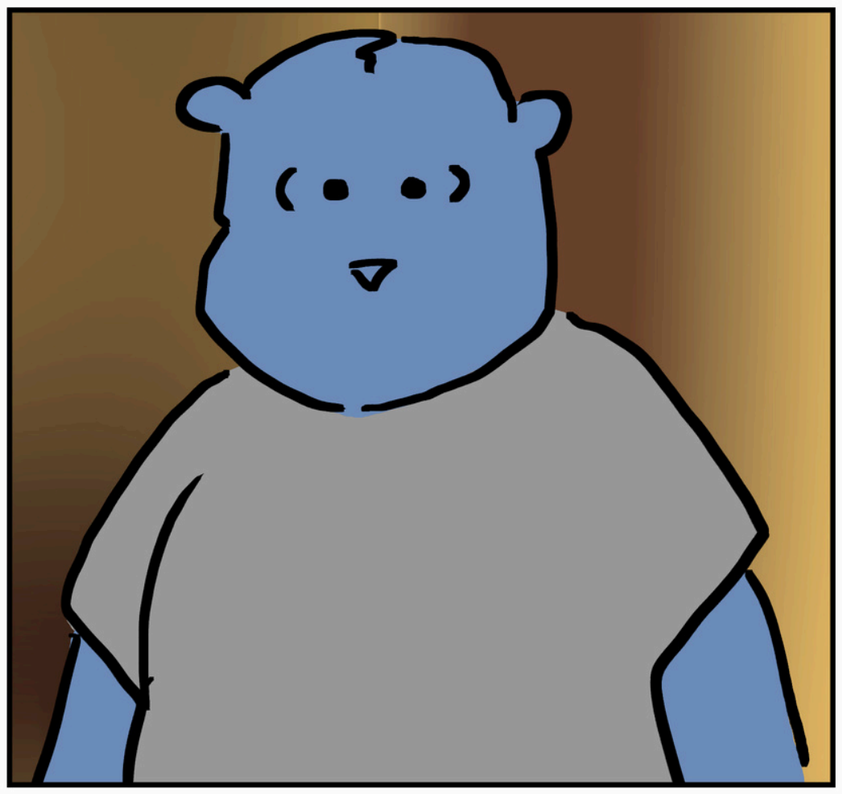
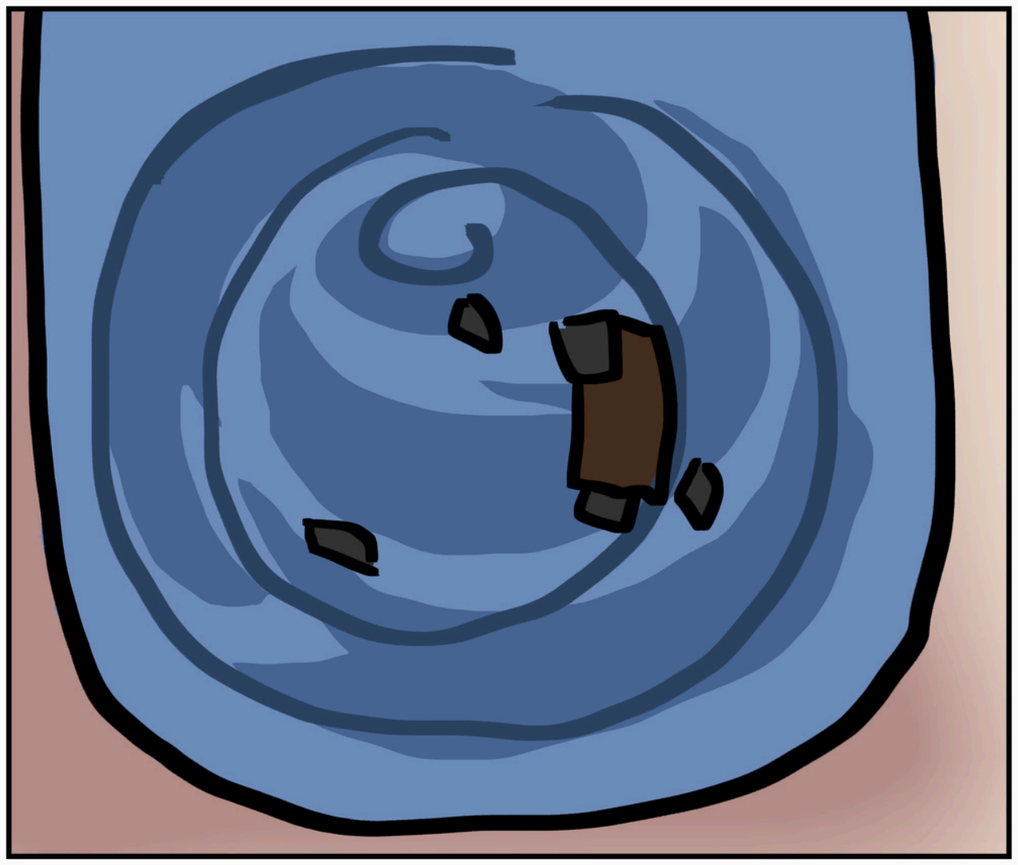
May I please use the restroom?

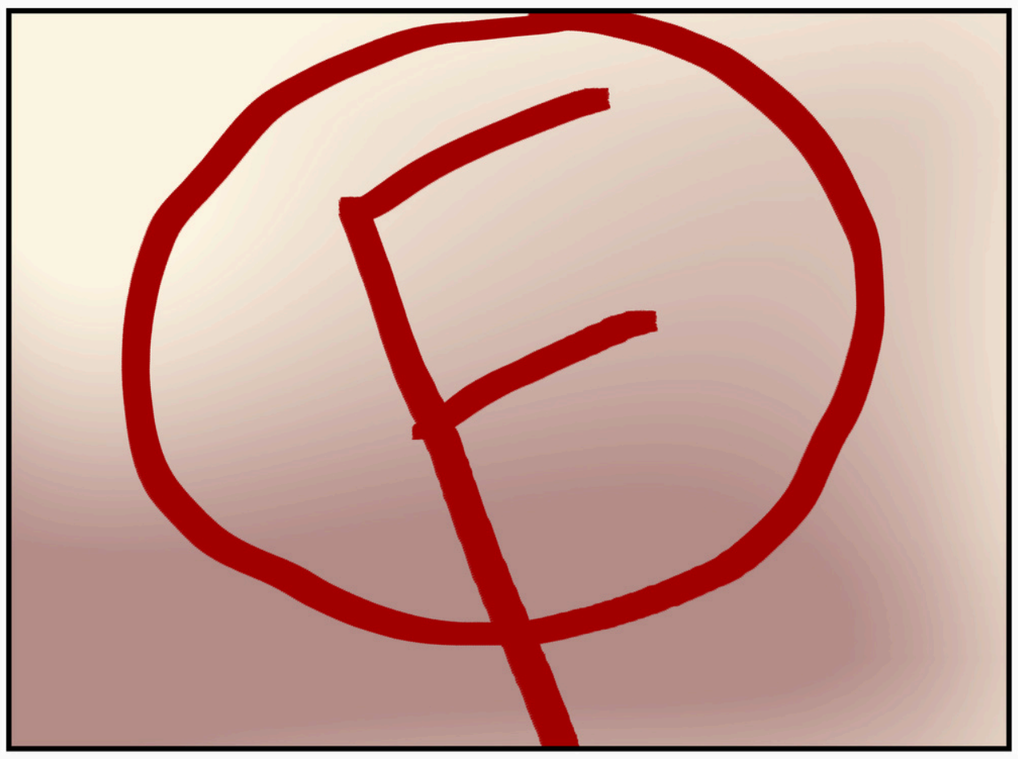
why is it that sitting on a porcelain seat with your pants down always calms you when you're trying to think of how you're going to pass some test you never studied for.

I had to options.
1: could go back to my history test and fail
2: I could try a cigar, and fail my test.





I flushed the end of the cigar down the toiler.



I and returned to class. Failed my test. The next morning I felt sick. I had an upset stomach and my head was spinning.

Ten years later, I was in Mexico.
I smoked more often. Had more headaches.

Ten more years later and I had my second born child and barely smoked.

Now I smoke once or twice a year. I don't need to quit because I'm not addicted. Besides, what's a cigar here and there gonna do?

THE END.
